In 2019, ARC published 49 numbered items, including 45 peer-reviewed articles, 3 book reviews, and a collection of personal tributes to the late Bill Branch. We are very grateful to the peer-reviewers listed below for volunteering their time and expertise to help us determine which of the submitted manuscripts that passed our initial screening merited publication, and also for providing suggestions that improved the analysis, interpretation, and presentation of the data and ideas in each article. The following individuals have provided either manuscript reviews during 2019 or prior reviews of manuscripts that were published in 2019 (Volume 13). The names of those who reviewed more than one manuscript are given in bold. We look forward to the continuing generous gift of time from the reviewers who will help us maintain the high quality of articles published in ARC in the future.
